ANASTASIA INTERNATIONAL DELIVERS over 30,000 GIFTS to RUSSIAN and UKRAINIAN WOMEN in 3 YEARS

Bangor/Moscow: Anastasia International has completed over 30,000 flower and gift deliveries to ladies in Russia from foreign suitors and each customer has received a personal photograph back of the happy woman receiving his gift. The first flower delivery was on April 24th 2005 from Tom to Svetlana.*

Anastasia International's main point of contact between foreign men and thousands of lovely women in their database is through the website www.anastasia-international.com. Here, even casual users can browse the photographs and profiles of the women on the database and search for ladies who meet their requirements such as age, city of residence, with children or childless, divorced or single.

To develop the contact, registered users are able to exchange e-mails, Talk on the phone and video-chat by webcam with the women who have all been personally interviewed and vetted by the agency's offices and representatives throughout Russia and Ukraine. To help cross cultural communications with women with varying degrees of English proficiency a team of translators and interpreters are on hand to assist both ways.

By giving clients the opportunity to demonstrate their love by sending flowers and a range of gifts, Anastasia International increases the interaction between couples. Within three days of ordering via the web site, an Anastasia International representative delivers roses and the client's choice of a range of gifts including teddy bear, sparkling wine, perfume, chocolates and fruit baskets. As the surprised and happy woman receives her bouquet and gifts the delivery man takes her photograph and it is sent to the client.

This unique service marks Anastasia International head and shoulders above dating web-sites and other flower and gift delivery services. Anastasia's network covers all major cities across 11 time zones. With 100-plus employees between the Bangor and Moscow offices, Anastasia International is the largest organization in the industry.

Barry, of New Jersey, says "Aliona looks so radiant and happy holding the bouquet! I love this photo. The delivery was lightning fast (just 2 days from when I ordered it)! All I want to do is make Aliona happy."

Anastasia International has built its reputation on bringing potential couples face-to-face via regular "romance tours" to Russia. These tours come complete with interpreters and multiple social events and the visiting men are usually surrounded by several hundred beautiful and receptive Russian ladies, for whom marriage to a Western man is a dream come true.

“When I went to Odessa, the ladies made a point of saying how they liked the roses. It sort of puts you a step ahead,” says Daniel of Florida.
